

December 22, 2020

As 2020 winds up, I wanted to take this opportunity to express my sincere appreciation for all of the very hard work you have done at home to support the education of your children. Remote learning is a huge challenge, and we couldn't have done it without you. Daily I am thankful for all of you and appreciate the respectful communication we have had. I know that remote learning has put a huge strain on some families and that is constantly something I think about. But I feel with the commitment and teamwork between BES staff and families, we are making the best of a challenging situation.

January 19 is a day we all look forward to because it means we can have our kids back in the building. We will continue to follow the safety guidelines we followed this fall to ensure we can do everything in our power to stay open until June. Stay tuned for more updates as the 19th approaches.

I feel very blessed to be part of this very special community. BES kids and their families, our staff, the SAU staff and the School Board have worked diligently together. This does not happen everywhere. So please take time to enjoy the season. Remote classes won't resume until January 4th so step away from the screens, get outside and make the most of time with your family.

Be well and happy holidays!

Sue
